MISSION STATEMENT: The Sheldon Arts Foundation is dedicated to enriching the greater St. Louis region and beyond with a wide range of music, visual arts and educational programs of the highest quality, diversity and educational impact; and to the preservation and operation of the historic Sheldon Concert Hall and the adjoining Sheldon Art Galleries.

THE SHELDON CONCERT HALL

The Sheldon embarked on another successful season of jazz, folk, classical, bluegrass, concerts and more. The subscription series featured some of the best young and up-and-coming performers today including Jason Marsalis's Vibes Quartet, Sierra Hull, the Anat Cohen Quartet, and Erin Schreiber and Lindsay Garritson from the St. Louis Symphony, along with legends such as Chucho Valdés and Joe Lovano, Judy Collins, David Halen and Loudon Wainwright III. Special concerts included an evening with jazz great Pat Metheny, an intimate evening of storytelling and songs with old friends Lyle Lovett and Robert Earl Keen, Gaelic Storm, and the star-studded Lampedusa:

Concert for Refugees featuring Emmylou Harris, Steve Earle, The Milk Carton Kids and a very special appearance by Rock and Roll Hall of Famer and Led Zeppelin lead singer Robert Plant. Gospel and R&B great Mavis Staples returned for a rollicking Friends of The Sheldon benefit, as did Art Garfunkel, presenting a heartfelt evening of music, poetry and stories. Both events raised money for Sheldon Education Programs. The Sheldon also partnered with Cortex Innovation Community to present free, outdoor lunchtime concerts at Cortex Commons featuring local artists such as Letter To Memphis and Farshid Soltanshahi.

The Sheldon Sessions series, co-presented with KDHX, continued with artists such as Dale Watson and Ray Benson, Paul Thorn, and St. Louis' own iLLPHONiCS. The Sheldon also partnered once again with KDHX for the 5th Annual Folk and Roots Festival, featuring Jim Kweskin and Geoff Muldaur, Hubby Jenkins and Elephant Revival.

Jazz music icon George Benson made his Sheldon debut for one of the most memorable Galas to date, performing hit songs such as "Gimme the Night," "This Masquerade," and "Breezin'" to a sold-out crowd. The event raised over $200,000.

THE SHELDON ART GALLERIES

The Sheldon Art Galleries 2016-2017 season featured two very important exhibitions that shed light on the complicated history of race relations, social justice and healing in our community. Outside/In: Paint for Peace featured large scale murals, painted by professional and amateur artists alike, in the days and weeks following the 2014 protests in Ferguson and St. Louis. Higher Ground: Honoring Washington Park Cemetery, It's People and Place, presented a multi-media look at the history of this historically African-American cemetery, by artists Jennifer Colton, Denise Ward-Brown and Dail Chambers.

The annual ArtSounds gallery gala was inspired by Paint for Peace, and featured saxophonist James Carter, who improvised an original piece after viewing the exhibition. The "Caribbean Experience" brought authentic sights and sounds of the Caribbean to The Sheldon in conjunction with the Etienne Charles concert in March. Both events benefitted the exhibits and programs of the Sheldon Art Galleries.

Additional exhibition highlights included Amazing Horns: Bridging Continents, Bridging Time from The Sheldon's Hartenberger World Music Collection; The Landscape Architecture of Dan Kiley; Circus Harmony: Defying Gravity and Other Limitations; and Vita Eruhmovitz: Un/Virtual.

Gallery education programs for students, teachers and the public included an Identity Project Workshop with Jackie Lewis Harris and a class from Carr Lane VPA Middle School (SLPS); a Career in the Arts Day for students from Ursuline Academy, Clayton, Mehlville, Rockwood Summit and McCluer North High

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Over 30,000 young people enjoyed Sheldon Educational Programs last season, including live concerts in jazz, folk, blues, classical, the American musical, and world music.

The Sheldon launched a new STEAM-based program for the school year titled "The Sound of Science and Music," a fast-paced, interactive presentation featuring top St. Louis educators and musicians Dan Rubright, Sandy Weltman, Farshid Soltanshahi and Feyza Eren. The program is a companion piece to the ongoing SOLID Project (Science of Learning Instrument Design), with lead support by the Boeing Company, which engages St. Louis area students in learning about the science of acoustics and music, using the STEAM disciplines of science, technology, engineering, arts and math to make their own instruments from everyday materials. Over 30 schools and thousands of kids participated in the SOLID Project last season.

Harvey Lockhart, Director of The Sheldon's North County Big Band, was awarded the Arts and Education Council Educator of the Year Award in January 2017, in recognition for this work at The Sheldon and Riverview Gardens High School. The North County Big Band expanded in the 16-17 season to include middle school students.

The Sheldon's 14 year partnership with the Cardinals Care Redbird Rookies program continued with annual concerts in June connecting blues and jazz to baseball, and Music for Lifelong Achievement continued its annual Starbucks Instrument Drive, bringing in over 40 new and used musical instruments to donate to local schools and music groups.

FACILITY RENTALS AND EVENTS

The Sheldon's special event spaces hosted an amazing variety of events, from galas and awards dinners to weddings, concerts and receptions. The Sheldon Concert Hall, Art Galleries, Ballroom and Louis Spiering Room were home to events such as United Negro College Fund Evening of Stars, Munny Magic at The Sheldon, Jazz St. Louis, Bach Society and Grand Center Galas, Hope Happens 13th Annual Evening of Hope, St. Louis Mayoral Candidate Forum, The Capitol Steps and Todrick Hall.
