Nomi Health Opens Covid-19 Testing Site with No Out-of-Pocket Cost with Support from the Kranzberg Arts Foundation and Grand Center, Inc.

Located in Grand Center, the site is open to the public and will support the local arts community including artists, performers and patrons

ST. LOUIS, October 22, 2021 – Nomi Health, the direct healthcare company coordinating COVID-19 testing and vaccination efforts across the country, has opened a new Covid-19 testing site with no out-of-pocket cost to patients in the Grand Center Arts District of St. Louis with support from the Kranzberg Arts Foundation and Grand Center, Inc. Located at 3526 Washington Ave. on the second floor, the testing site is open to the public and will support artists, performers and patrons of the arts in the bustling district by providing both antigen and PCR testing. The site accepts insurance, but for those without insurance, no one will be turned away.

"Easy access to free Covid testing has been a hindrance to our arts community both on the artist and patron side throughout the pandemic. This new testing site is just one more step in bringing our arts economy back to thriving," said Chris Hansen, Executive Director of the Kranzberg Arts Foundation.

"This latest site is a part of Nomi Health's continued commitment to keep communities safe and to enable the arts to re-open safely in St. Louis," said Joshua Walker, co-founder and COO, Nomi Health. "Key to us all learning to live with COVID safely is easy access to quality testing, so we are proud to serve St. Louis in this way."

"Grand Center Inc is so pleased to be able to support the resurgence of the arts post pandemic." Said Rich Simmons, Executive Director, Grand Center Inc.

About Nomi Health

Nomi Health is a direct healthcare company focused on making healthcare actually work for those who buy it for their states, organizations, and constituents. We're a team of over 2,000--each actively working to connect buyers and healthcare providers directly to lower costs, deliver care solutions to all and rewire the health system to run in real time. From the front lines of COVID testing and vaccination serving over 10 million Americans and more than 40,000 patients each day, to building new ecosystems of buyers such as States and Counties without middlemen, Nomi delivers a solution for our nation's leaders seeking to widen access to care while lowering cost of care.
