ADDITIONAL VIRTUAL EDUCATIONAL CONCERTS ADDED TO SHELDON SEASON
- National Artists Ulysses Quartet and Flamenco Vivo Added to Schedule -

ST. LOUIS - The Sheldon announces the addition of two special concerts to its virtual schedule this fall. These live-streaming programs, broadcast from The Sheldon stage, will feature national touring acts the Ulysses String Quartet on October 8 at 10 a.m. and Flamenco Vivo on October 21 at 10 a.m.

The 45-minute programs will be offered free of charge to both traditional and home schools, thanks to Emerson; World Wide Technology, Inc.; Steward Family Foundation; and many other generous donors.

The concerts will stream live at each scheduled concert time and will then be available to registrants for two weeks following the initial air date.

Praised for their “avid enthusiasm” Ulysses String Quartet will bring chamber music to life in a blended program of pop and classical string quartet repertoire.

Flamenco Vivo with Carlota Santana introduces students to the powerful spirit of flamenco with America’s premier Spanish dance company.

The Sheldon’s music education concerts, which introduce over 25,000 students annually to jazz, folk, classical, world music and the American musical, will also offer live-streaming performances of their most popular recurring concerts fall.

The virtual performances are free of charge, but registration is required. Contact The Sheldon’s Education Coordinator, Katelyn Galenski, at 314-533-9900 ext. 33, kgalenski@thesheldon.org or register online at TheSheldon.org.
