BANU GIBSON RETURNS TO THE SHELDON CELEBRATING THE MUSIC OF RANDY NEWMAN

ST. LOUIS – The Sheldon presents Banu Gibson, “40 Years of Randy Newman,” Sunday, October 25 at 3 p.m. in the perfect acoustics of the Sheldon Concert Hall.

Swinging jazz singer Banu Gibson stands at the top of her field as one of the few vocalists of her generation to stick exclusively to songs of the 1920s, ‘30s and ‘40s. Mixing fresh renditions of both standards and obscurities of Tin Pan Alley greats and jazz classics by Gershwin, Ellington, Berlin, Carmichael, Waller and Porter, Gibson is a powerful performer. With an extensive repertoire of songs, Gibson’s performances cover many high points of America’s golden age of popular music.

Gibson returns to The Sheldon with vocalist Debbie Davis, pianist Tom McDermott and tuba player Matt Perrine, paying tribute to the witty, wonderful music of Randy Newman, known for songs that run the gamut from heartbreaking to satirical and a host of unforgettable film scores. Randy Newman has used his many talents to create musical masterpieces widely recognized by generations of audiences, including classics such as “I Love L.A.” and “You’ve Got A Friend In Me.”
