FEYZA EREN TO OPEN SHELDON MATINEE SERIES IN FEBRUARY WITH VALENTINE’S DAY CELEBRATION

Internationally acclaimed jazz vocalist Feyza Eren returned to her hometown of St. Louis from Istanbul in 2011, after spending 15 years singing jazz with Turkey’s finest musicians. She has performed at many notable venues in and around St. Louis and in 2015, was featured on HEC-TV’s I Love Jazz with Don Wolff. Eren celebrated the release of seven albums from 2014-2016 with Steve Davis, including their most recent 2016 release, Imagination. She just released her newest album, Home, in June 2019.

Born and raised in St. Louis where she graduated with a degree in broadcast journalism, Eren studied classical violin for eight years, and performed in several musical and theatrical productions before embarking on a professional career. She sang various styles of music with different groups in St. Louis before moving to Istanbul in 1995, where she performed with renowned Turkish and international musicians. She spent four years singing Turkish music with a popular ethnic/folk group, Ezginin Günülüği, with which she recorded four albums. She left the group in 2000 to pursue a solo career as a jazz vocalist but also recorded jingles, as well as the theme song for the Turkish feature film, Oyunbozan and the lead female character in the 1998 Warner Brother’s Turkish language version of the animated film, The Quest for Camelot.
